

Guido Porro

Winemaker Guido Porro is the fourth generation of a family estate. The Porro family continues to work just as their predecessors did—the only major change over the last few decades has been the decision to bottle at the estate instead of selling the wine in demijohns or barrels.

The limestone-heavy soils of Serralunga d'Alba are known for providing the most long-lived and full-bodied Barolos. Porro's vineyards are located here in the Lazzarito, a gorgeous amphitheater that faces south-southwest and offers the grapes full sun exposure and protection from the wind. The sub-zones of Lazzairasco and Santa Caterina are both monopoles and share the same soils. However, the monopoles have different expositions and elevations that provide distinct traits to each wine. Lazzairasco is a very hot site and home to Porro's oldest Nebbiolo, resulting in a more powerful, masculine wine. The cooler, breezier Santa Caterina brings out the delicacy and elegance of Nebbiolo. Even Porro's Barbera, a grape that is usually planted in lesser vineyards, enjoys a privileged place in Santa Caterina. Guido sticks to traditional methods in the vineyards and cellar, and he never gets in the way of the grapes' natural expression.

Barolo DOCG Vigna Gianetto

Varietal/Blend: Nebbiolo

Farming Practices: sustainable

Elevation / Exposure: 340-390 / S

Soil: clay and limestone

Harvest Technique: by hand

Yeast: ambient

Fermentation: maceration in cement vats over 20-25 days with regular pumpovers

Malolactic: in barrel

Maturation: three years in 15 and 25 hL Slavonian oak botti

Alcohol: 14.5%

Fined: no

Filtered: no

Country: Italy

Region: Piemonte

Subregion: Barolo

Vineyard: Gianetto

Vineyard Size: 1 ha.

Production #s: total production of 2,100-2,500 cases

About Gianetto

Guido Porro's first release from the Gianetto vineyard was 2011. The south-facing vineyard is still young compared to Porro's other holdings, but the wines are expressive and perfumed after 3 years in Slavonian oak casks. For now the Gianetto is a perfect Barolo for drinking now as the wine is an approachable Nebbiolo with notes of rose petals, fresh raspberries, and a youthful structure that complements the generous fruit on the palate.

orders@tedwardwines.com

212-233-1504